

My impressions about the project week with our Spanish partners

In the following I wanted to describe my impressions about the project week. A group of twenty pupils from Barcelona came to visit Luckenwalde a few weeks ago. We spoke English with one another during this time. At the first day my mother, Alfred and I were in the supermarket Marktkauf. We wanted to buy something to drink and to eat for us. We hoped, that Alfred tell us what he most like, but he was very shy. Alfred told me something about his family. I was very impressed to hear that his family have two mountains used as wine yards. My mother got a bottle of their own wine as a present. Another point which affected me a lot was that his grandfather produces olive oil by himself. I liked the trip to Berlin. We went by train from Luckenwalde to Berlin Hauptbahnhof. It was very interesting, that the Spanish friends already knew something about our capital Berlin. They were most interested in visiting the Reichstag. Already in school in Barcelona they prepared the trip to Germany. We also prepared statements which important facts about the sights in Berlin. The day was strenuous but also very funny.

I think that the exchange program would be a great success for all pupils and English teachers, because the first meeting was an exciting experience. It was very nice.
