

Project-Week

Before they came to Germany I was really nervous and I felt very scared. I hoped that all will be fine. I could hardly wait for it. The first impression at the airport was really exciting. And all the girls looked the same. But if you know them better you can differentiate the girls.

I liked this week, it was wonderful. At first I didn't understand all from them because they had a different pronunciation. A little later I understood them better. My parents had some problems with the language. But they were very interested in her and asked about some aspects. I think my parents would do an exchange again.

The girls and boys from Barcelona were so nice and really funny. Spending all the days together was so funny, too. But I think this week was too short. And the day in Berlin wasn't so interesting, because it rained all the day.

I loved the evenings the most when we went to a cafe together and talked about our life. The trip to Potsdam was nice, the sun was shining and the New Palais was beautiful. We learned a lot of different things about ourselves. It was really interesting to learn the Spanish language. Spanish is wonderful, I love it.

I would prefer to learn Spanish than Russian.

The life in Barcelona is really different from Germany, for example they don't pull off the shoes in the living room. But after the week I was so sad. I miss all the people so much. But I am happy when I think about March. We will see each other again.

All in all it was a nice experience. I am glad to visit them all in March.
